Young Writers Association Lively Literature Camps are active summer day camps based on great books.

Down the Mississippi

This summer join a hands-on expedition into the world of steam power, corn bread, rascals and close shaves.

No need to read Mark Twain's stories before camp – Louisa Lindsay and Frank Sprouse will read and tell choice bits to inspire your diving into learning with an adventurous spirit.

Activities include:

Become an artist, writer, cook, scientist, musician, architect, engineer, and storyteller. Create, imagine, laugh out loud—discover Mark Twain's America for yourself.

- Play in a jug band
- River raft with the City of Eugene outdoor program
- Spin yarns
- Make mud art
- Build and race a river boat (model)
